

LUXURIES MUST BE CURTAILED IN U. S. IS WARNING

American Financier Discusses Business Outlook.

SEES DEPRESSION Artificial Conditions Are Blamed For Present Extravagances.

CHAPTER I.
(Being the first installment of an important interview with Frank A. Vanderlip, eminent financier and political authority on world political economy. Mr. Vanderlip was seen at his beautiful home "Beechwood" Scarborough, overlooking the Hudson river, by Floyd MacGriff, correspondent of the International News Service. Tomorrow the Gazette and Republican will publish the second chapter of this interview in which Mr. Vanderlip brilliantly discusses the world wide Russian problem.)

New York, August 25.—Inherently the American business outlook is sound, but the next six years cannot be so boundlessly prosperous as the past six—which were inflated, owing to unusual war conditions and unless the American people curtail luxurious extravagance, there will be difficulties ahead.

That summarizes in a paragraph the views of Mr. Frank A. Vanderlip, one of the foremost financiers in America who discussed for the International News Service the business outlook of this nation from a broad standpoint.

"There is little prospect," he said, "of America retaining its present volume of foreign trade unless American exporters, as a class, become more than amateurs and change their methods."

"I do not see how this country can enjoy as great prosperity during the next six years as in the past. I see no evidence as to why there can be such a continuance."

"The sooner this nation realizes that and gets back to the hard facts of economic life and to a sounder business morality, the better it will be."

"Artificial conditions, the outgrowth of the war which have been making our national life so extravagant, must be curtailed."

"I do not mean by this that the workingman is not entitled to fair pay for an honest day's work. Nor do I mean wage increases have not been essential. I think one may safely figure wages and other expenditures on a basis of two and a half times those of 1914. Where a dollar was spent then, it now is necessary, I find in my own affairs, to spend $2.50."

"But the point is that we should start—not necessarily or by any means with wages—to reduce expenditures."

"Everyone seems agreed that such a move should be made—but he is waiting for the 'other fellow' to make it."

PONZI ABLE TO PAY LESS THAN 50 CENTS ON DOLLAR ALLEGED

Assets Of "Wizard" Not Near Three Million Dollars.

Boston, Aug. 25.—If official statements of Charles Ponzi's liabilities are correct a payment of less than 50 cents on the dollar to creditors is indicated by his statement of assets at the receivers' hearing.

Assuring the federal receivers that he had disclosed all he knew, Ponzi told of assets which Robert G. Dodge, counsel for the receivers, declared were "not worth anywhere near $3,000,000." The official estimate of his liabilities, after an audit of his accounts, stands at $7,000,000. Ponzi said he thought this was an error. He claimed that he was solvent and had nearly $4,000,000 of assets to meet his liabilities, which he set at $3,000,000.

Miss Lucy Melt, 18, who since last April has been Ponzi's office manager, said she knew of no source of income for Ponzi except what he received from investors. When asked if she had ever seen in the office any international reply coupons, she said there had been "one or two there which we used as samples for investors." She had transferred money abroad only once or twice, she testified, but did not know what the drafts were for.

HUGHES ENDORSES HARDING AND REPUBLICANS LEAGUE SUBSTITUTE

Justice Scores Cox and Wilson, and Lauds Harding; Says Proposal For "Association Of Nations For International Justice" Can Be Secured To Nation's Benefit Under Republican Administration.

Marion, Aug. 25.—Charles Evans Hughes, Republican candidate for President in 1916, came out today with an unqualified endorsement of Senator Warren G. Harding after spending 24 hours in Marion.

In his first formal utterance since the Chicago convention, Justice Hughes not only expressed complete confidence in the 1920 nominee but he also gave approval to the plan of an "association of nations for international justice" proposed by Senator Harding in his speech of acceptance.

It is generally believed that the details for such a combination of Governments are now being worked out in Europe by Elihu Root and will later be injected into the Republican campaign as the G. O. P. substitute for the league plan brought back by President Wilson. Its function would be to promote international justice and its powers broadly limited to the decision of "justicable questions."

Justice Hughes also took occasion to score briefly both Governor Cox and President Wilson. The nomination of Governor Cox, he said, was brought about by "baneful influences" while "President Wilson's obstinacy" alone is responsible for the chaotic conditions of our foreign relations.

"It is hardly necessary for me to say that I shall earnestly support Senator—Harding," said Justice Hughes today. "He is a man of rare poise, high minded and sincere. No one can meet him without being impressed by his exceptional capacity and his integrity of purpose."

"He has complete familiarity with the problems of federal administration and we can feel assured that he will maintain the highest standards in government. He knows how to secure economy, to put an end to the extravagance which has marked the present administration."

"We cannot afford to have a Tammanyized federal government," the nomination of Governor Cox was brought about by the selfish and determined effort of local Democratic bosses who represent the most palatial misdeeds in our political life. There is one sure way to defeat their effort to capture the government of Washington and that is to elect their candidate."

"Senator Harding has a genius for cooperation. We want executive leadership but we want to put an end to the attempts, sometimes obvious, sometimes subtle, to create an autocracy of the executive senator. Harding will be his own master, but he will really seek counsel and not simply talk about it."

"I believe also that Senator Harding's election will afford the surest way of securing our proper relation to international cooperation. This country must do its part but it must reserve the right to act in any future contingency according to its duty as that contingency reveals it. Of course, that is what actually will occur. We shall act in any future emergency, as in the light of all the facts, we are then convinced we should act. It is to preserve that essential freedom as a nation which makes it necessary to object to ambiguous commitments in advance."

"The essentials in any really effective plan for international co-operation are to establish a tribunal of international justice where justiciable questions are concerned to provide the machinery for conciliation and to secure the advantages of international conference. All this can be secured, and I believe will be secured under the presidency of Mr. Harding, without guarantees which attempt to commit us to unknown contingencies and which will serve as trouble breeders and not as peace-makers. I am fully convinced as a result of my conversation with Senator Harding that under his leadership we shall have our foreign relations conducted in accordance with our best traditions and America's duty to the world will be discharged without ignoring her duty to herself."

CONSTITUTIONAL AUTHORITY OF INTERSTATE COMMERCE COMMISSION UNDER FIRE

Right Of Body To Direct Destination Of Privately Owned Commodities Probed By Litigation To Be Started Soon By Coal Wholesalers.

Washington August 25.—Litigation to test the "constitutional authority" of the Interstate Commerce commission in directing the destination of privately owned commodities, such as coal, will be begun within a fortnight, representatives of coal wholesalers today declared.

The coal dealers and operators complain of the action of the commission in directing that coal shall be sent to New England and great lakes before any other section of the country is provided for, notwithstanding the fact that orders are on hand for coal in other sections.

In the application of the chambers of commerce of Cleveland and Akron, Ohio for the cancellation of a large part of the commissions order granting great lakes coal preference and ordering that the needs of the northwest be fulfilled before the remainder of the country is cared for from the central coal fields, the dealers see an opening wedge for their action.

"The settlement of the right of a commission to dictate to a private citizen where he might dispose of his wares will involve litigation which may prove as important in its day as the Dred-Scott decision prior to the Civil war," George H. Cushing, managing director of the American Wholesale Coal Association, declared.

"The transportation act known as the Esch-Cummings bill grants the commission broad authority. In assuming to dictate to a coal operator where he should sell his coal, without taking into account the credit of the probable purchasers at the point of sale, when here is a safe market in another section does not meet with sound business methods and it is a question if the constitution grant to any government agency such broad powers."

ROOT TO MAINTAIN SILENCE ON LEAGUE DURING CAMPAIGN

Refuses Republican Wish To Take Stump In Party Behalf.

London, Aug. 25.—If Republican leaders in the United States hope to enlist the services of Elihu Root for speeches on the league of nations they are doomed to disappointment. Mr. Root declared emphatically today that he will maintain absolute silence.

"Now that the league has become a political factor in the United States, and to some extent, in Europe, it is impossible for me to discuss it," said Mr. Root. "I am opposed to the politics of the present administration at Washington yet to a certain extent I am representing the administration here. Therefore it is impossible for me to say anything that might in any sense be accepted as criticism of the American administration or the league of nations. I have participated in the deliberations on the league only in an advisory way."

Mr. Root came to Europe as a member of the international commission of jurists which has laid the foundation of a permanent court of arbitration and justice which will be conducted as a branch of the league of nations to prevent future wars. The American jurist said he would return to The Hague in a few days to meet his wife who is preparing to leave Holland for New York.

RAILWAY EMPLOYEES FEAR READJUSTMENT OF WAGE STANDARDS

Action Anticipated By First Of Next Month Is Belief.

Columbus, Aug. 25.—Acting on tips that railroads plan to lay off a number of men, readjust wage scales and put practically all crafts on a piece-work basis, local railroad union men are taking steps to meet the situation, which they say will probably materialize Sept. 1, when guarantees under the Cummins-Esch railroad bill expire. Declaring they will use means at their disposal for fighting any reductions or revival of the piecework schedule, members of one craft plan to take a vote at once as to whether they will refuse to submit to a return of the piecework plan. They will also take a stand on the anticipated laying off of men, they say. Railroad officials declared they had no definite information on the questions anticipated by the workmen, who declare that other roads are looking to the Pennsylvania to take the lead.

ISLAM ENDORSES RED DOCTRINES

Constantinople, August 25.—Islam has officially endorsed Bolshevism. Anatolia, in a proclamation signed by the nationalist chiefs points out to the Anatolian people that the principles of Bolshevism do not conflict with their faith. Mohammedanism, the proclamation says, are founded on the principles of democracy, and therefore Mohammedans are enjoined to accept the Bolshevik principles which are pictured as being truly democratic.

DARLINGTON CHOSEN OFFICER OF A. L.

Youngstown, O., Aug. 25.—The Ohio American Legion adjourned its two days' convention here after electing Colonel John R. McQuigg of Cleveland as state commander and choosing Toledo as the next convention city. Other officers elected were: First vice commander, Robert R. Roberts, Youngstown; second vice commander, C. L. Darlington, Xenia, and treasurer, Clell C. Canon, Akron. A resolution to amend the constitution so as to permit a stand on political issues by a two-thirds vote was defeated.

INSTANTLY KILLED WHEN RUN OVER BY TRUCK ON TUESDAY

Fred Barnett, Colored, Of Yellow Springs, Badly Mangled.

Fred Barnett, 35, colored of Yellow Springs, was instantly killed about 5:30 o'clock Tuesday evening when he was thrown from the government truck hauling employees from Wright Field at Fairfield to Yellow Springs, and run over by the machine as it left the road and ran into a ditch one mile west of Yellow Springs.

Barnett had been employed at the field some time and with the other employees was taken back and forth on a huge truck from the field. Tuesday evening on the return trip the truck was heavily loaded and Barnett was riding one of the fenders. When the driver lost control of the machine it dashed off the side of the road. Barnett falling from his position directly in the path of the wheels. He was terribly crushed about the head and death was instantaneous.

The body was removed at once to the home of a cousin, Mrs. Nannie Williams in Yellow Springs. The man leaves three sisters. Funeral arrangements will be announced later. Coroner R. L. Haines conducted an investigation of the accident Wednesday morning.

DAYTON LIBRARY CLOSES ON ACCOUNT OF LACK OF FUNDS

Will Shut Doors September 1 To March 1 Is Announced.

Dayton, O., Aug. 25.—The Dayton public library and four branches over the city will close from December 1 to March 1 according to the board's announcement today. Insufficient funds is the reason. The board has certified a $100,000 budget but, if granted, this money will not be available until March 1, and the present cash will be exhausted December 1. The law will not allow the library to borrow. Recent months have seen many attaches leave for not having their pay increased.

POLAND SWEEP CLEAR OF REDS DRIVE STILL ON

Red Divisions Smashed By Great Polish Offensive.

CITIES CAPTURED Bolsheviki Cross Polish Frontier In Great Numbers.

London, Aug. 25.—A break in the negotiations between soviet Russia and Great Britain loomed nearer today. This would result in the complete diplomatic isolation of soviet Russia as Great Britain has been acting as the medium through which Moscow's views were being transmitted to the allies.

London, Aug. 25.—The Polish armies, according to late advices from Warsaw, have recaptured Lomza, 75 miles northeast of Warsaw, and Bialystok, 50 miles east of Lomza.

In the remaining occupied sectors in the north the Bolsheviki are crossing the Prussian frontier in great numbers. In this region the Eighteenth and Thirtieth divisions have been smashed, and all of the Fifty-fourth division have been taken prisoner.

The fifth Polish army alone, operating on the northern front, has accounted for more than 20,000 prisoners, including the staff of the Eighteenth and the Fifty-fourth divisions, says the communication.

The military authorities announce that the various government districts of Poland, with the exception of Suwalki and Grodno, have been virtually cleared of the Bolsheviki, some of whom, in the panic of retreat, crossed into East Prussia.

Many red detachments have been cut off from retreat and are gradually being gathered in. Peasants, armed with clubs and scythes, are assisting the Polish soldiers in the process of cleaning up. In various parts of the country, particularly between the Vistula and Prussia, where the Bolsheviki have been cut off from their communications, there are organized hunting parties, consisting of the members of hunt clubs and others, who beat the wooded country in search of reds.

General Pilsudski has issued an appeal to the peasants to aid the army and urges the peasants to make prisoners in all cases and turn them over to the soldiers. The military authorities declare that since the Polish offensive began about a week ago more than 50,000 prisoners have been taken.

POLES FLATLY REJECT ALL BUT ONE OF RUSSIAN DEMANDS

Agree To Demobilization Of Army It Is Reported.

London, Aug. 25.—The Poles have flatly rejected fourteen of the fifteen peace terms presented to them by the Russian peace delegation at Minsk, according to advices from Minsk to the Daily Herald today. The Russian demand for demobilization is reported to be the only one that the Poles accepted. The Poles are said to have refused to discuss the Russian demand for railway concessions and the arming of Polish workers. The Poles hold that the frontier line drawn by Earl Curzon, the British foreign secretary is unacceptable.

POLES TO REACH RACIAL BOUNDARY

Paris, Aug. 25.—The advancing Polish troops are expected to reach the Polish ethnological frontier during the day, it was announced at the Polish legation. Polish cavalry is approaching Grodno, 155 miles northeast of Warsaw. The United States has warned the Poles against crossing the ethnological frontier, which was mapped out by the allies on the basis of nationality.

ELEVATOR SAFE BLOWN

Marionville, Aug. 25.—Burglars blew the safe in the office of the elevator on the Erie tracks at North Lewisburg, and obtained about $50. The interior of the office was badly damaged by the explosion. The elevator is owned by Ralph W. Lennox, of Richmond and managed by Lewis Creighton. Only enough money for change had been left in the safe.

AMERICAN RELATIONS WITH FOREIGN NATIONS OBJECT OF MISSION

Diplomats Watch Movements Of Elihu Root and Colonel House Believed To Be On Mission To Re-establish Relations.

TELL EUROPE OF AMERICA'S POSITION

Each Trying To Convince European Governments That Respective Party Has Solution Of Present League Of Nations Tangle.

Washington, Aug. 25.—Diplomats here are watching with keenest interest the goings and comings of two distinguished Americans now in Europe: Elihu Root, secretary of state under Roosevelt, and Colonel E. M. House, President Wilson's right hand man and confidential advisor at Versailles. The belief of many is that each is on an unofficial but strictly confidential mission.

While Democrats and Republicans in the senate delayed action on the peace treaty it was admitted by both parties that the moral leadership in world affairs, won for the United States by American victories overseas, was gradually being lost, each party blaming the other for the blunder. Colonel House and ex-Secretary Root, the one Democratic, the other Republican, according to opinion in diplomatic circles here, are both now doing their utmost, each in his own way, and from his own point of view, to convince European statesmen that America is in the concert to stay.

Reports have reached Washington that European nations of late have shown far more readiness to listen to the voice of America in arranging old world destinies than was apparent last spring towards the end of the senate battle over the treaty. Then it was known here that England, France, Italy and some of the other powers, were making their plans to go ahead without taking the United States into consideration.

Then Colonel House went to Europe. Also Mr. Root. Neither went in any official capacity so far as the United States government is concerned, according to state department officials.

The real work of each, observers here understand, is to convince the leading statesmen of Europe that each has the only real idea for a league of nations or world society, and that his own party behind that idea is bound to come out on top in November.

Between the two the old world is described as having suddenly reversed its American conceptions. According to indications reaching Washington unofficially, the allies have gradually been brought to believe that much of the league of nations noise in America is purely political and whichever side wins in November, the United States will not completely isolate herself.

REPUBLICAN FUNDS ARE LESS THAN ONE MILLION TO DATE

Upham Makes Statement On Party's Finances.

New York, Aug. 25.—The total of Republican national funds raised since the nomination of Senator Harding is $944,353.82, according to a statement issued by Frederick W. Upham, national treasurer of the party. Upham said this amount was in actual cash, and that while there were some pledges still outstanding, these would not total more than $100,000.

"Chairman Hays' statement that our budget is only $3,000,000 is quite correct," Upham declared. "To the best of my knowledge, no single contribution of more than $1,000 has been received since the national convention."

Regarding the statement attributed to Governor Cox that $700,000 had been collected by the Republicans "in one place," Upham explained this probably resulted from the fact that amount had been raised in Illinois, but that it was for national, state and county purposes combined, and most of it for the latter two. Upham said that in Ohio, for both national and state campaigns, a total of $169,000 has been raised.

PROMISES TO PROVE 'SLUSH FUND' CHARGES MADE BY GOVERNOR

Will Discuss Republican Fund at Pittsburgh He Says.

Dayton, O., Aug. 25.—A promise to prove, in his address at Pittsburgh Thursday night, his charges that the Republicans are gathering a $15,000,000 campaign fund, was made by Governor Cox prior to his departure on another speaking tour. He will make addresses at Princeton and Evansville, Ind., and speak at Pittsburgh Thursday.

Governor Cox also sent a telegram to Senator Kenyon, Republican, Iowa, chairman of the senate campaign fund investigating committee, assuring him of assistance in bringing out the facts. "In addition to my statement in Pittsburgh," said Governor Cox's telegram, in response to one from Senator Kenyon requesting information, "I will send to your committee such leads for information as I possess. It will be my purpose to assist you in every possible way."

The governor told friends that he stands ready to appear before the committee if it should desire personal testimony, but doubted if it would be necessary. "I don't need a subpoena," he said. "If they want me I'll go."

Confidence in proving his charges was expressed by the governor. His friends declare that he had voluminous documentary matter, including considerable received at Trailside.

Figures of the number of arrests for different causes by the police department shows the effect prohibition has had on the number of arrests in Xenia. There were 121 arrests in 1917, and 111 in 1918 on the charge of drunk, and only 80 during 1919 when prohibition came into effect the latter part of May. From May on until the end of 1919 there were only five arrests on the charge. The figures also tend to show a general lessening of crime, which in a way points to an efficient police department in keeping crime at its lowest. The figures show that there were 432 arrests in 1917, 354 in 1918 and 391 in 1919. However, in 1919 there were 115 arrests for speeding, which is not a criminal offense and should not be counted with other years when practically no arrests were made on that charge. Subtracting the list of 115 speeders from the total, there are 276 arrests for the year, a much less number than in the previous twelve months.

Cutting down the high cost of living is all very well, the average person agrees, except when such cutting interferes with his own profits.

"Not only in our business life but in our private affairs, I believe we all should strive to be more frugal." "Is the American business outlook today inherently sound?" he was asked.

"Business in this country," Mr. Vanderlip explained, "is largely dependent upon crops. There will be bounteous crops this year, especially of those crops harvested in the latter part of the season."

"Bumper crops tend to protect the United States from industrial depression in the home market." "How about foreign trade?" he was asked.

"Our foreign trade gradually is declining," as figures issued monthly show. With the exception of a few American industries with their own distributing organizations abroad—such as the Singer Sewing Machine Company, the Remington Typewriter Company, the Standard Oil Company and the McCormick Harvesting Machinery people, we are amateurs as compared with England at foreign trade.

"There have been too many American business men who have failed in their own line, who think they can become successful exporters. With no study of the market they are trying to serve abroad, without catering to the individual or the peculiar wants of the foreign buyer and without keeping themselves adequately informed as to world trade conditions, they are interested chiefly in the 'first shipment'—which often may prove the last under such circumstances."

Consequently such exporters are doing our foreign trade incalculable harm, for foreign buyers will not put up with such dealings longer than necessary. They will buy elsewhere.

"Another thing, we cannot continue selling abroad in the present volume unless we begin to take goods in exchange."

"Would you knock holes in our tariff wall?" Mr. Vanderlip was asked.

"That will not be necessary," he answered. "Persons interested in developing our foreign trade might do well to consider the policy of British manufacturers, who take great pains in pleasing foreign customers, in specializing in their respective wants and in fostering permanent business relations, through 'repeat' orders."

Why Itch and Burn With Skin Diseases?

There is a Way to Get Rid of the Torturous Suffering. Terrifying skin irritations, eczema, tetter, boils, pimples, etc., have their origin in a disordered condition of the blood. They come from a colony of tiny germs which get into the blood and multiply by the million.

Lotions, salves, ointments or similar treatment cannot possibly reach the source of the trouble, which is the blood.

When any of these symptoms appear you should take prompt steps to rid the blood of the germs which cause them. And the one remedy which has no equal as a blood cleanser is S.S.S., which is sold by druggists everywhere. Begin taking S.S.S. today, and write to our Chief Medical Adviser, who will give you special instructions without charge. Address Swift Specific Co., Atlanta, Ga.

TRIBUTE TO THE GIVERS OF LOVELY FLOWERS.

We are in the midst of the Floral season with us. The fragrance of it seems to double the charm of its loveliness. How thoughtful of those who have plenty, to divide their emblems of loveliness with those who have none. The recipients take the act as one of the choicest friendliness. And are we not all too slack in giving expression of our kind feelings to others? God forgive us about this, and warm our hearts with love.

Lovely flowers are the smiles of God's goodness. They should wreath the marriage altar, for they are in themselves a lovely type of marriage. They should twine round the tomb and garland the last resting place of our loved ones, for their perpetually renewed beauty is a symbol of the resurrection. They should festoon the church altar for their fragrance and beauty ascend in perpetual worship before the most High.

Henry Ward Beecher said: "Flowers are the sweetest thing that God ever made and forgot to put a soul in. Think of a singing Rose, a whispering Violet, a murmuring Honeysuckle. Oh, what a rare and exquisite miracle would these be."

Flowers are the Embellishers of earth, and how lovely they make it. No mortal hand can vie in Decoration equal to Nature. For a moment think of the contrast between now and a bleak winter day with the snow fence high. We are all thoughtless creatures, to not appreciate as we should the charms of Nature, given us to gladden mortal gaze.

Men travel the world over to see the great works of Nature—the towering mountains and the wonderful gorges—but when it comes to a desire to see a thing that pleases, something that satisfies our innate soul, nothing fills the bill better than a lovely Flower Garden. It seems to have a voice that speaks to us, to elevate us.

We all live in the hope of pleasing somebody; and the pleasure of pleasing ought to be great. If your flower garden is open to view, and its sight pleases the passer by, you are contributing to his happiness. Perhaps he had often stopped and looked and felt more kindly towards the world.

To communicate Happiness is worthy the ambition of anyone. Life is made up not of great deeds, but of little things, and among these the giving of happiness is a faculty worthy the ambition of an angel.

If you have a flower garden, thank God, and divide your pleasure. To give is God-like.

MOTOR MAD AMERICA.

The English writer who says America is "motor-mad" is about right. It may be something for the trade to boast of, but it is something for the rest of the nation to think about. There are many desirable and praiseworthy features about having more automobiles in this country than all the rest of the world has together, but automobiles are not an unmitigated blessing.

Every family may have an inalienable right to own a car, for it is a most convenient means of transportation, and surely transportation is a fundamental human right. But what of the millions of families that buy cars before they can afford them or buy more expensive cars than they can afford? Nearly everybody wants a bigger car and a faster car. The natural desire to be able to "get about" develops into a desire to "go fast" and to be always going.

The nation seems to be developing a veritable motor mania, a state of mind which wants to be moving rapidly, regardless of direction or object, which cannot keep still, which regards mere motion as a desirable thing. The continuous physical motion in itself tends to create a corresponding mental motion—a state of mind lacking repose and power of concentration.

This result is certainly as bad as the accompanying extravagance and the discouragement of home life. It is a fact, largely responsible for them. A mind not at rest cannot properly estimate real values and enjoy the things that give permanent satisfaction, such as old-fashioned family life, literature, music, art, fine social intercourse and the study of nature.

This last item would be worthy of extended comment by itself. The "motor maniac" cares little for nature and sees less of it, however he may have over the landscapes that rush past his speeding car. Gas engines have little to do with nature. The owner of a magnificent touring car doubtless has something very fine; but the man or woman sitting quietly may have something worth more than all the automobiles on the world's highways.

THE RICHEST MAN.

Most Americans, if asked "Who is the richest man?" would doubtless reply by naming the man they think could draw his check for the greatest number of dollars, or whose name would stand for the largest amount of credit. We are accustomed to measure riches in dollars and cents, and to that unhappy fact may be traced much of the roguery and mischief and discontent of the day. But here in a western paper speaks Edward J. Pierce, the village blacksmith of Pierce, Neb.:

"I am just a common blacksmith, but oh, how rich! I go to my labor each morning, work until noon, go to my dinner, return at 1 p. m. and work until 6. I enjoy the greatest of all blessings, good health. Each day sees something accomplished, and every job of work I turn out I feel that I have done my customers a service and that I am worthy of my hire. I have a wife who has stuck to me for twenty-two years, a little home, a beautiful little daughter and a son, grown to maturity and now in life's game for himself. Then, to add to all these riches, I take down my old shotgun in season and ramble through the fields, woods and tangle in search of the elusive cotton-tail, teal and mallard, with my faithful old pointer at heel, and he is as happy as I when on the hunt. Then, when I get home, oh, how good everything does taste! When night has spread its mantle over this good old universe I settle down in a good old easy chair, enjoy a smoke and then roll into bed, never to hear a sound till the break of another day.

"Rich? Why, man alive, who could possibly be richer? The height of my ambition is so to live that I may have no regrets for having lived and to have accumulated, when the times comes for me to shuffle off, just enough dollars so that my loved ones shall not be objects of charity."

In that there is a good philosophy which has become all too rare. In putting the emphasis on dollars we have lost our love of work and our pride in the product of labor. There is a surety worth in health than in wealth, and in all the range of riches there is nothing finer than the content of a day well spent or a task honestly performed to the best of one's ability. If the riches of this "common blacksmith" could cover the land there would be a far happier day.—Columbus Dispatch.

HONOR RETIRING PASTOR OF FRIENDS CHURCH TUESDAY

Honoring the Rev. H. C. Biddlecum, retiring pastor of the Friends church, and Mrs. Biddlecum, who will soon move to their new home in Emporia, Kan., a farewell meeting was held Tuesday evening at the home of the Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Custis, South Detroit street.

Mr. and Mrs. Biddlecum, the Rev. and Mrs. Charles Bennett, Miss Edith Bennett and Miss Mary Bennett were dinner guests at the Custis home. After dinner sixty members of the A. C. Turrell and Xenia Union of the Women's Christian Temperance Union, called at the Custis home, to surprise and say good bye to Mr. and Mrs. Biddlecum, who have both been active in temperance work. Mr. Biddlecum has been leader of the dry forces in the county for some time, and Mrs. Biddlecum took an active part in the W. C. T. U. work.

After greetings had been exchanged, tribute was paid to the retiring pastor and his wife, in an informal program.

The Rev. Mr. Bennett spoke briefly, dwelling upon the work that the pastor and his wife have performed in the city. Mrs. Mary L. Collins dwelt upon their connection with the temperance cause in the county. Mrs. M. R. Snodgrass, who is a native of Kansas, in her talk dwelt upon the removal of the Biddlecum's to that state.

An interesting bit of the early history of temperance in Xenia, when her husband the late Rev. A. C. Turrell as pastor of the First M. E. Church was active in the cause, was given by Mrs. Turrell. Responses were made by Mr. and Mrs. Biddlecum. The rest of the program consisted of a hymn sung by the company, duet song by Misses Eula Custis and Mamie Burrell, and a prayer by Mrs. C. L. Spencer.

A refreshment course was served.

NERVES STEADY AS EIGHT DAY CLOCK

Never knew what a full night's rest was, rolling and tossing from one side of the bed to the other. Now she sleeps sound and awakes feeling refreshed, since taking Drecos.

I used to dread going to bed because it meant fitful sleep, bad dreams and rising next morning more tired than the night before," said Mrs. Stella Guess, of 6 Brown Ave., Athens, O. "My stomach gave me much distress by filling up with gas after meals and nausea. I was constipated daily; had no appetite, and had aching pains in my back right over my kidneys. Dizzy spells often attacked me; I had a bitter taste in my mouth and my tongue was coated most all the time.

"Drecos has proven to be a wonderful remedy for such troubles, as I had, for I'm feeling better than in many a day. I strongly recommend Drecos as a tonic for women."

Drecos is made from the juices of twelve different herbs, roots, barks and leaves, which act directly on the stomach, liver, kidneys, bladder and the blood, and tends to relieve constipation, headaches, rheumatism, catarrh, biliousness, dizzy spells, heart fluttering, gas on the stomach and other troubles.

All druggists now sell Drecos and it is being especially introduced in Xenia by Solin's Drug Store.

Mr. R. D. Adair, who has been enjoying a trip in Northern Michigan, will arrive home tomorrow. Mrs. Adair, who accompanied him, has gone to Jackson, Mich., for a few days' visit.

Charley Riddell has a smile on his face today that is attracting a great deal of attention and he finally acknowledged that it was due to a fine boy, which arrived at his home yesterday.

The freight traffic on the traction lines has become so heavy that it became necessary for the Dayton and Xenia Traction Co. to put on a car built especially for carrying freight and express. The run was made last night.

JOACHIM.

A prince of stately pedigree, whose medals were a sight to see, observed with weariness and pain how at his house the world's disdain was leveled, and he cried: "Shoot! wait! My noble name I'll vindicate! I'll show men that the kaiser's sons are not all worthless sons of guns. I've had in mind, for quite a time, some action splendid and sublime, our reputation to retrieve, and knocking enemies to peeve. Now, watch my curves! Observe my foam! Good night, punk world, I'm going home." And then he took his trusty gut and shot himself below the hat. And when I heard the ghastly news I had a season for the blues. For I had long regarded Jo as one too fond of empty show, who traveled with base, trifling chaps, and spent his evenings shooting craps. I could not see that in him dwelt one virtue worth a tomato's pelt. I often held him up to scorn as showing that the nobly born are worse than useless if they lack a spinal column down the back. But now, by one great splendid act, by one sublime display of tact, this prince has shown where I was wrong; he had one virtue, true and strong. Convinced he'd never make a hit, he knew when it was time to quit.

ASSURANCE GIVEN THAT CARPENTIER WILL MEET JACK DEMPSEY

The signing by Jack Dempsey, heavyweight champ, of an agreement with Tex Rickard, fight promoter to meet Georges Carpentier, the French battler, on the return of the latter from France in September is assurance that the much promised go will soon materialize.

The actions of Carpentier, on his former trip to this country led many to believe that he came here to pick up a few of the shekels that fall in the path of the conquering hero and that he had no intention of fighting. The booking of the international match however, is assurance that the French champ will not only be back but that he is game and will meet Dempsey shortly after his return. The fight will be staged at Madison Square Garden, New York.

Dempsey himself, is as busy as a Mexican jumping bean these days getting in training for his go with Billy Miske at Benton Harbor on Labor Day. The holiday will also see Bryan Downey of Columbus mingling with Johnny Wilson, middleweight champion, at Canton. The affair will go twelve rounds.

TEXAS LEAGUE RECRUIT USED BY CINCINNATI

Napier, a recruit from the Texas League, showed sage brush ball to the crowds at the Redland Field, Cincinnati, Tuesday and the Reds defeated the Phillies 7-2.

With the defeat of Brooklyn by Pittsburgh Moran athletes obtained a firmer hold on the position at the top of the National League heap and they also took solace from the defeat of the Giants.

The Reds have purchased San Bohne, infielder of Seattle club of the Pacific Coast League who will join them in the spring.

LUCKY STRIKE

"IT'S TOASTED"

—the Cigarette

—the Tobacco

IF you are a cigarette smoker, and unacquainted with Lucky Strike, buy a package today, and find out for yourself why they are so popular.

You will at once notice the delicious flavor of Burley tobacco, delivered to you absolutely fresh. It's toasted.

TO pipe smokers Lucky Strike tobacco offers the same exceptional flavor as the famous cigarette. Made from the finest Burley tobacco—it's toasted for your pipe.

If you don't know how delicious toasted Lucky Strike is ask for a tin today, and taste!

IT'S TOASTED

The Burley tobacco leaves have pores, like a sponge. When "it's toasted" their pores are closed, the flavor sealed in, permanently. When you burn Lucky Strike in your pipe or cigarette, you are releasing the original Burley flavor that was sealed in by toasting. Exactly that. Heat seals it in, heat releases it.

You know how a bee seals in the flavor of honey with the thin coating of wax. This coating holds in that delicious honey flavor until it's used.

Just so the toasting process seals in the Burley flavor. This flavor is preserved until you release it by smoking. A wonderful process and a great discovery for smokers.

FAIR PROMISES TO BE LARGEST IN HISTORY

Never in its history has Montgomery county had the promise of as big a fair as this year. I. I. Holderman, secretary, said: "The 1919 fair was the biggest ever held, but 1920 will far excel last year. The larger purses and premiums offered have filled to overflowing all barns, sheds and exhibit halls. The arrangements are being made to get large tents from Cincinnati to take care of the overflow."

This year the fair board is offering $2500 in premiums for the best exhibits of vegetables, fruits, and flowers, grown by pupils of the graded and high schools of both villages and townships. All the superintendents are trying to make the most of the opportunity to advertise the work of their pupils. Five premiums are being offered in each of the rural divisions in the village and high schools. Articles to be shown are to be delivered to the superintendents for proper arrangement.

The Fall Hats
to-morrow morning

We could have held up the good news for another week or so but why keep the Jury waiting? The hats are here and we figure that you are just as glad to shake your old straw as it is to be shook.

For weeks we have almost laid awake nights planning this display and now that our dream is realized, we want you to have a good time too. The Day is set—tomorrow morning.

What are you doing about 10 o'clock?

Asserts New Discovery Brings Blessed Relief to Hay Fever Sufferers

Can Make it Yourself at Home at Trifling Expense

In spite of all the doubters and scoffers, a man in Kentucky, who changed his annoying and distressing Hay Fever into less than a mild cold, claims most emphatically that if taken in time Hay Fever or Rose Fever can be conquered or at least made so harmless that it is not even bothersome.

He gave his discovery to scores of other sufferers with the most remarkable results and has recently been prevailed upon to dispense it through Pharmacists to all Hay and Rose Fever sufferers who still have faith that nature has provided an effective remedy for this common, yet miserable disease.

And best of all this remedy costs almost nothing. Get three-quarter ounce bottle of Mentholized Arcline at any drug store, pour the contents into a pint bottle and fill the pint bottle with water that has been boiled. Then gargle as directed and twice daily sniff or spray each nostril thoroughly.

That's all there is to it; so simple that a lot of people will say that it can't do the work, but oftentimes simple, natural remedies are the best; as you will find after using.

If you will make up a pint and use it for a week or ten days you need not be surprised if your unwelcome yearly visitor fails to appear.

Mentholized Arcline is new in this market. It is possible that your druggist has not supplied himself, but he can get it for you from his jobber, who has a large supply.

Heart and Home Problems

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am engaged to a young man whom I love dearly when we are alone. It is different when we are out among other people because he says and does such silly things that I am very nervous and disgusted. He makes people laugh, but he takes all the attention. Very often it is bad taste for him to be the center of attraction.

I have gone home from parties many times and thought I could not marry him. Then I would feel the same love for him when we would be alone together for two or three hours.

What would you advise me to do? Do you think I would be happy with him if we married?

After you are married most of your time will be spent alone with your husband and not in the company of others. If you are congenial you will probably be happy together.

It would be wise to wait six months or a year before you marry. That will give you time to make up your mind more fully whether or not you can love the man for his good points and forget his limitations.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I will be fourteen years old in June. I am old looking for my age and everyone says I act sixteen or seventeen. At school I go with older girls than myself.

I think I am old enough to go with boys. They invite me to go places, but my father is very strict and will not allow me to go. I am afraid if I keep turning down their invitations they will stop asking and then I will never have any more chances.

Don't you think that my father ought to be more reasonable since

I am a big girl for my age?

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am troubled with blackheads and little pimples. Will you please print a remedy?

To cure blackheads make an ointment of one ounce of soap liniment and one ounce of ether and mix. At night scrub the face thoroughly with hot water, using a complexion or other soft brush. After wiping, apply the mixture to each of the spots and let it remain on over night. Wash off in the morning with hot water. Continue until the spots have disappeared. Then twice a week wash the face with this mixture, removing the liquid at once by rinsing with clear water. If there are large pores, wipe over each with a little alcohol.

For pimples make an ointment of two grams of beta naphthol, twenty grams of sulphur precipitate and one ounce of ether and mix. Rub over the pimples at night. This may be used at the same time as the blackhead mixture.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: Would it be all right to accept a little pocket kodak from a very good gentleman friend?

Yes.

MOST IMPORTANT U. S. CROPS WILL EXCEED U. S. DEMAND

Chicago, Aug. 24.—The annual crop report of the Continental and Commercial National Bank, which is compiled by hundreds of correspondents throughout the American farming region, says that production of important crops "will exceed that of last season with the exception of wheat" and that the aggregate production will be in excess of domestic demands.

"There has in the last two months been a complete reversal of the dismal forebodings that attended the planting under climatic restrictions," the report continues. "Ideal conditions have turned the prospect of a partial failure into the prospect of bountiful harvests and promise of better returns in the crops that come to harvest later in the season."

The report says the country can spare 220,000,000 bushels of wheat or the same as exported the past season. Proper distribution of the big wheat crop is greatly aided by resumption of dealing wheat for future delivery on the Chicago Board of Trade, after three years of a Government fixed price. The law of supply and demand, the dominating influence in the world open market has a stabilizing effect on prices.

Comparisons of leading crops for two years, the figures of last year being the official returns are given as follows:

	1920 (est) bu.	1919 bu.
Corn	3,055,427,000	2,917,450,000
Oats	1,433,077,000	1,248,310,000
Winter Wheat	558,791,000	731,636,000
Spring Wheat	275,956,000	209,351,000
All Wheat	834,747,000	940,987,000
Barley	188,416,000	165,719,000
Rye	88,425,000	88,478,000
Potatoes	394,512,000	357,901,000
Hay tons	83,209,000	91,326,000
Cotton bales	13,289,000	11,030,000

The report says that the average yield per acre is larger than for some years.

CLEVELAND PLUMBERS STRIKE IS ENDED

Cleveland, O., Aug. 24.—An end was brought to the plumbers strike here late last night when the union voted to accept the compromise proposal of a joint committee appointed to adjust the differences. By the terms of the settlement plumbers will receive $11 a day, with the workman furnishing his own tools. The men struck June 1 asking for a 50 per cent increase in their daily wage of $8 and that employers furnish all tools.

Building operations in Cuyahoga county have been greatly hampered by the strike.

FLOUR TAKES A DROP ONCE MORE AT MILLS

Minneapolis, Aug. 25.—Flour took a further drop of 50 cents a barrel at local mills, quotations for family patents in 98-pound cotton sacks, car load lots being $12.40 to $13.

ROCK FALL INJURES MINERS

Martin's Ferry, Aug. 25.—Three men were injured, one probably fatally, when stone fell on a car load of miners en route out of the Joseph Meister Coal Co.'s mine here. Stephen Dull's back was broken.

Is Your Blood Starving For Want of Iron?

Without Plenty of Iron In Your Blood You Don't Get the Strength and Nourishment Out of the Food You Eat

When over-work, lack of sleep, improper food and impure air sap the iron from your blood and make you feel weak, nervous, irritable and out-of-sorts, it is important that you should at once put more iron into your blood. Without iron the blood loses the power to change food into living tissue and therefore nothing that you eat does you the proper amount of good because you don't get the full strength out of it. Your food merely passes through your system like corn through a mill with the rollers so wide apart that the mill can't grind. Because of this steady starvation of the blood and nerves people often become weakened, tired-out, nervous and rundown and frequently develop all sorts of symptoms. But the moment organic iron—Nuxated Iron—is supplied a multitude of dangerous symptoms disappear in most cases, the flesh becomes firmer, the muscles get back their strength and the roses of health bloom in cheeks that were pale and sticky looking.

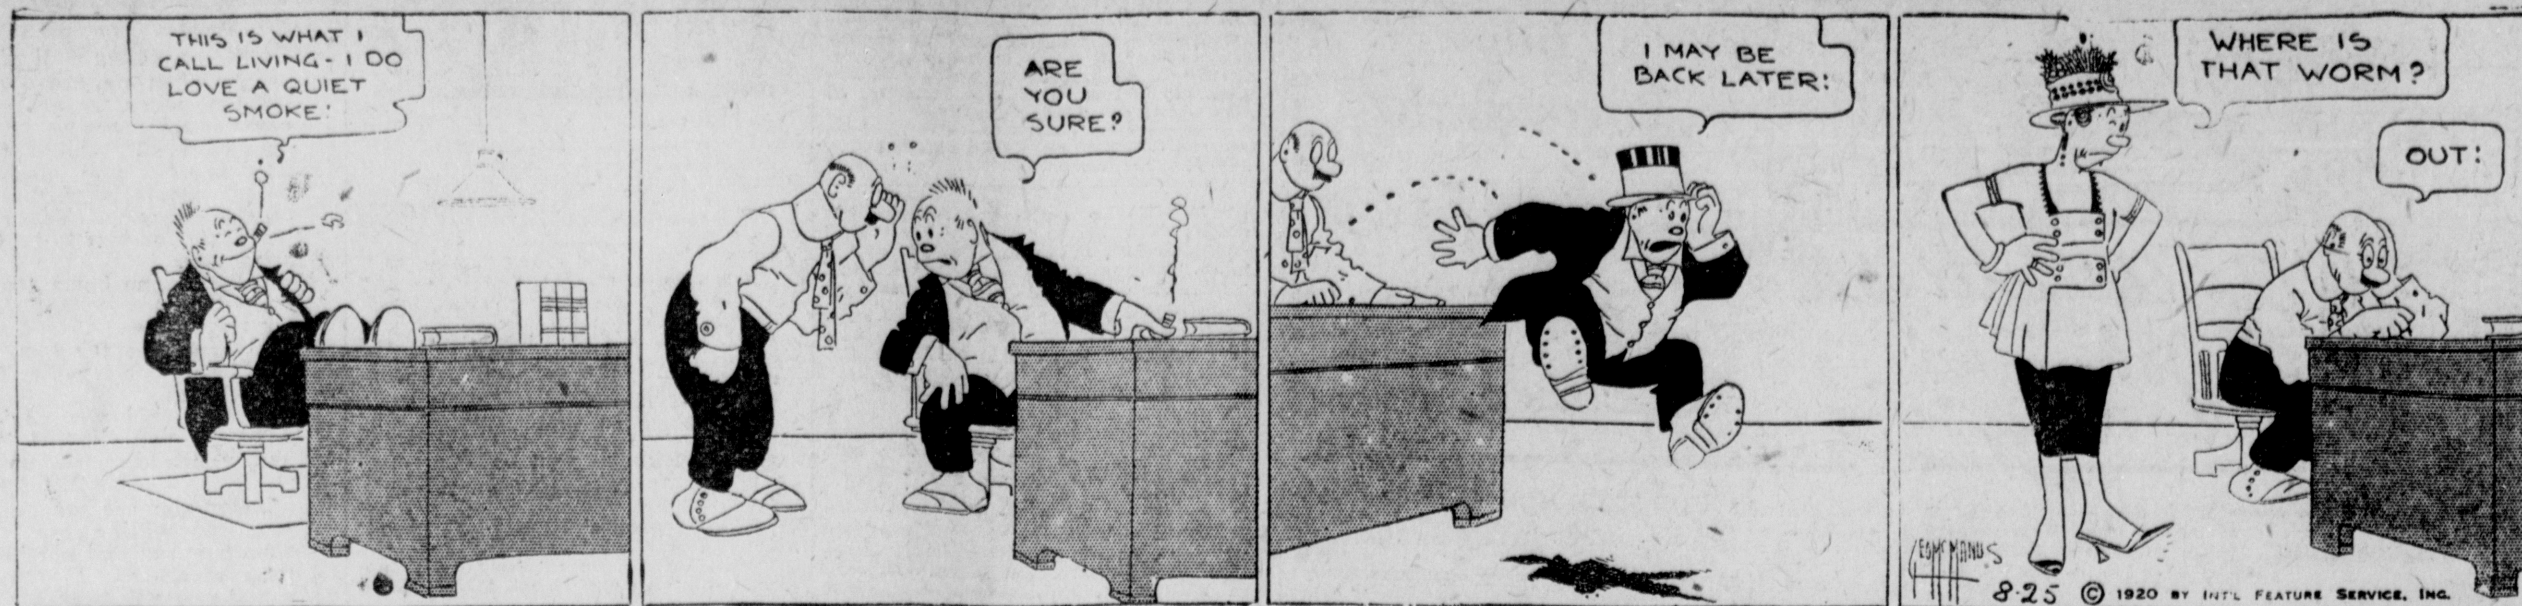

No matter what other so-called remedies you may have tried, if you are not strong, vigorous, hearty and well, you owe it to yourself to make the following test: See how long you can work or how far you can walk without becoming tired. Next, take two five-grain tablets of ordinary Nuxated Iron three times per day after meals for two weeks. Then test your strength again and see for yourself how much you have gained. You can obtain Nuxated Iron from your druggist on the distinct understanding that if you are not fully satisfied your money will be refunded.

RECIPES FOR A DAY.
Deviled Eggs—Rub three hard-boiled eggs through a sieve and then add two tablespoons of grated cheese, one teaspoon of salt, one-half teaspoon paprika, one-eighth teaspoon mustard, one tablespoon melted butter. Mix and then form into tiny eggs.
Peach Pudding—Place in a saucepan one cup flour, one teaspoon salt, one tablespoon baking powder, one-half cup sugar, four tablespoons shortening, one cup crushed peaches, one cup bread crumbs, two well-beaten eggs, two-thirds cup milk. Beat to mix and then turn into well-greased baking dish and bake in a moderate oven for thirty minutes. Serve with vanilla sauce.

Squash Fritters—Pare and grate pulp and if not sufficient add enough cold water to make two cups. Place in a mixing bowl and add one and one-half teaspoons of salt, one-half teaspoon of pepper, three cups of flour, one tablespoon of sugar, four level teaspoons of baking powder, two well-beaten eggs. Beat to mix and then fry in hot fat, or bake on a griddle.

Eggplant Croquettes—Pare and cook the eggplant until tender and then turn on a piece of cheesecloth and squeeze dry. Turn in a mixing bowl and add one and one-quarter cups of fine bread crumbs, two well-beaten eggs, one and one-half teaspoons of salt, one-half teaspoon pepper, one onion (grated), one-half cup finely minced parsley. Mix and then form into croquettes, roll in flour, then dip in beaten egg and roll in fine crumbs. Fry until golden brown in hot fat.

Blackberry Roly-poly—Place in a mixing bowl two cups flour, one level tablespoon baking powder, one level teaspoon salt. Sift to mix and then rub in the prepared flour, seven tablespoons of shortening and use four tablespoons of water to form to a dough. Roll out one-quarter inch thick and spread with the prepared berries. Sprinkle with one cup of brown sugar, one-half teaspoon nutmeg.

Roll and then fasten the ends securely. Place in a baking pan and bake in a moderate oven for thirty minutes. Baste every ten minutes with one-half cup white corn syrup, one-half cup hot water. Stir to mix.

CANNING AND PRESERVING.
Fig Jam—Six pounds ripe plant cut in small cubes, six pounds of sugar; let stand over night. In the morning add juice and grated peeling of three oranges and three lemons, one pound seedless raisins, one pound of chopped figs. Cook slowly to a jam. Can in small cans.
It keeps for years. Splendid for a bread and butter spread, for tarts or layer cakes and for many other uses.

When Making Any Kind of Jam—Cook your berries (that have been mashed and sugar put with them) till you know the berries are cooked, then add a little cornstarch which has been wet in a little cold water. Cook this for a few minutes so no cornstarch will taste and your jam is finished.

"JUST A GIRL"

BY JANE PHELPS

Chapter 99

Never had I left a place more gladly than I left that theatre. I felt as if Mr. Betts' eyes were boring thru me and it was torture. After Tom had taken us home and we were alone, Mary said:

"Who was the guy, Zena? Someone you know?"

"The manager at the office, Mary. I knew she already felt badly that she had embarrassed me and I would say nothing to add to her hurt. 'Never mind, Mary, he had no business to say what he did.'"

"What was it?"
"Oh, just something about my refusing to go to lunch with him the other day." I was delighted that she had not heard his sneering remark about Tom.

"Oh, him! That jealous fellow. If I'd have known it was him I would have set Tom on him."

I laughed. I couldn't help it, Mary's expression was so funny. Then I forgot all about the incident in thinking of my good fortune, and in figuring how soon I could save enough to have Mother with me.

"Say, Zena, me and Tom are going to be spliced in just two months," Mary said when she had kept quiet as long as she could. "And I want to ask your advice about something. I can't seem to feel that you are out of it."

"I am just as interested as I was when I was your partner, Mary. What is it?"

"What do you think of Tom giving up his job at the tea and coffee house and coming into the restaurant with me? We are doing a pretty good business now and I really need someone. If he don't come with me I shall have to hire a man I think. But we ain't sure about it. Tell me what you think."

"I have thought many times it was the thing for you to do, but hesitated to say so. Tom earns, you say, $30 a week. I believe he can make more—as much, anyway—with you. Then, with him to help, you can gradually make the place larger, or take another place. I think it a splendid idea. What does Mrs. Fagin say?"

"I haven't said a word to her. Tom and me talked it over and decided we wouldn't say a thing about it until you know."

"Let's call Mrs. Fagin and ask her if she is too tired to talk with us a little while. It isn't quite 10 o'clock."

"I'll come right up—no, you come down. We'll have a bite of supper while we talk." The dear old soul aid when we asked her.

"I feel like sliding down the banisters after hearing that!" Mary exclaimed as she hurried down to the basement.

"Don't say a word, girls, till I get this supper on the table. I can't work and listen too."

"Cold ham-bread and butter, pickles and cider," Mary checked each thing off on her fingers as Mrs. Fagin put the dishes on.

"Now eat, and talk," Mrs. Fagin said as she sat down.

Mary told her just as she had told me—that she would like Tom with her, but that they both wanted to be sure they were doing the right thing from a business standpoint.

"You see $30 is $30," Mary said. "And Tom won't wait to get married only two months longer. He worries me almost to death about it," Mary blushed adorably.

"You don't want to get married, of course!" Mrs. Fagin remarked slyly. "Go along with you! Tryin' to throw all the blame on the lad. It's ashamed of you I am, Mary Murphy."

"I ain't in such a hurry as he is," Mary protested.

"He's the fine lad, and you better take him while you can get him. Some other girl will be a steppin' in and takin' him away from you if you don't look out."

"If he wants to go I wouldn't stop him," Mary retorted.

"I thought we were going to talk about the shop," I broke in, "not have a quarrel about Tom and some other girl. I don't believe he ever has looked at anyone else since he met you, Mary."

"There, there, Zena, we wasn't quarrelin'!" Mrs. Fagin said. "I know Thomas loves Mary, and she him. They're a fine couple, and will be happy I am sure. Now let's git back to business."

"Tom earns $30 a week now. Do you think he is warranted in giving it up? Will he be able to make as much in the shop? I asked her."

"Indade he will tho!" Mrs. Fagin often lapsed into a thick brogue. "And more too! Thot business is makin' money, and Mary needs her mon to help her."

"That settles it! Tom gives notice tomorrow!" Mary said.

Tomorrow—A Disagreeable Day.
